INSURGENCY

NOCTULIAN BLOOD COVENANT

THE END OF AN ERA:

Upon my recruitment and subsequent immersion into the vampiric nexion known to the public masses as the Noctulian Blood Covenant, I was confronted with many profound lessons. Throughout five years of unwavering devotion to Blood Current 435, I have been shaped by both triumph and adversity, each serving as a crucible for my resolve. That path has now led me to a singular and unavoidable decision - one that marks not an end, but the beginning of a new current. As of Thursday, July 23rd, 2026, I will be signing off as not only a neonate, operative, but as well as a praefectus of that vampiric denizen. Natural selection has ultimately played its part in weeding out the deplorable few who nested within the Nexion, and by such implementations I have lent out the offer to one who has been not only an avid advocate and supporter of the Noctulian Blood Covenant, but also someone I'm glad to call a loyal comrade. The Noctulian Blood Covenant for many years has been under scourge from both the gnawing effects of weak egocentric leadership, black propaganda, and dubious personalities. From questionable directives, to the lowly psudeo-types we have seen it all. As an individual corpus my directives and overall praxis have shifted dramatically away from David Myatt's Sinister Tradition, and I have found myself in a perpetual state of disenchantment. Under many thoughts of ultimate dissolvement, I decided that what the Noctulian Blood Covenant brought me can be brought to others operatives, not only under the terror-inducing effects of the trident and its set narratives, but as well the stepping stone towards infernal insight. To anyone harboring interest in the horrid revenant synod that is Nexion 435 we emphasize you get in contact with the newfound leadership, for any contact directed towards past leadership will be met with complete abandonment. Now the collapses, but the blood does not vanish.
